PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE by Janis White

Hello again to all you 4CU members. So far 2013 is playing out as a good year for our unit. We have already put on several successful rallies and grown a bit more. Many thanks to rally hosts Louis Hall and Sergio Quiros at Picacho Peak, Reg and Steve Bittner along with Anthony and Tamara Rodriguez at Cottonwood Jammer Jam, Paul and Ronnie Ward, along with Pat and Babs Cahalan at McDowell Mountain St. Patrick's Day, and Ken Johansen at Albuquerque Vintage Trailer Academy.

June boasts the second Summer in Santa Fe Rally, with more than double the number of rigs from last year. Howard and Carolyn Efner (along with Barbara Johnston and me) have cooked up a very nice rally in a beautiful venue. I look forward to seeing everyone who is attending!

I want to take this opportunity to mention some thoughts on our continued hot and very dry, and frequently windy part of the country. The folks who know about longer-term forecasts at NOAA say there is no indication that conditions will improve, especially with regard to rain or snow. Hot and dry weather does not mean we cannot continue trekking in our Airstreams. A bit more attention to conditions where we camp, being alert for events like dry lightning, and thinking through your plan before leaving in a hurry, if needed, should make camping reliably safe for us.

So Be Safe, and Happy Camping! ~Tan's

RALLY REPORT: ST PATRICK'S DAY RALLY II - McDOWELL MT REGIONAL PARK, AZ by Paul & Ronnie Ward

The Luck O'the Irish was with us this year as we had a most wonderful rally. Weather was perfect, scenery was spectacular, and (the most important) attendance by all you great Airstream folks! The Four Corners Unit and the Arizona Unit co-sponsored the rally, and again this year we were at McDowell Mountain Regional Park near Fountain Hills, AZ.

Folks were anxious to get in on the fun - we had 18 early arrivals on Thursday. Friday we added 6 more rigs for a total of 24, and that filled the Group site with silver toasters. Over the weekend many onlookers stopped by to admire and compliment our silver beauties.

The weather each day was clear and reached close to 90-degree highs, and then cooled at sunset down to the 60's. McDowell offers some spectacular vistas and we had sunrises and sunsets that looked like watercolor paintings. We had good nights for stars and many folks saw a comet passing near a crescent moon. Warm campfires and great conversations kept us entertained until we couldn't keep our eyes open.

Most everyone enjoyed activities during the day; these included hiking, mountain biking, games, shopping, and the Fountain Hills Art & Wine Festival. All this activity gave us good appetites and no one went hungry (did you get enough soda bread?). We had special Happy Hours each day with plenty of Guinness and Irish Flag drinks. Thursday was pot luck, Friday Irish Stew, Saturday Irish Feast of corned beef & cabbage, and Sunday we finished up leftovers. We had coffee and continental breakfast each morning, and then a special casserole for Sunday morning from the Cahalans.

Paul & Ronnie Ward from the 4CU and Pat & Babs Cahalan from the AZ Unit co-hosted the rally. We hope everyone enjoyed themselves, and we look forward to crossing paths again. ~Paul & Ronnie

MEMBER SPOTLIGHT: Ray & RoseMary Mazza

Keep busy - count your blessings and enjoy every day. This is the philosophy that we live by and have passed on to our four daughters and seven grandchildren. We are Ray and RoseMary Mazza and we live in Gilbert, Arizona.

Ray has been retired from the Printing Industry since 1995 and RoseMary from her 17 years as a Weight Watchers Leader in both Arizona and Maryland. The freedom of retirement allows us to use our 2007 25' FB Safari at the 4CU rallies, camping with family, and our extended 4 month Airstream summer trips.

During the 54 years we have been married we have traveled to every state in the USA except Alaska (next summer). We were both raised in Utica, NY and spent 21 years on the Eastern Shore of Maryland. We purchased our first RV in 1968 and after 5 travel trailers and a class B motor home we finally achieved our goal of owning an Airstream in 2007. (We tried to buy an Airstream in 1976, however our daughters did not want to live in what they felt was a "pressure cooker with 4 hammocks to sleep on".)

As a family we traveled and camped along the entire east coast. We spent 6 Christmases in Florida, one in New Orleans, and in one year we traveled from Maryland to Quebec in the summer and to the Florida Keys for Christmas. We shared many great experiences and adventures that helped to mold us into a very strong and loving family.

We had been members of three other RV clubs and shortly after purchasing our Airstream decided to see how well we would fit into the WBCCI and the Four Corners Unit. Our first rally was the 2007 New Years Eve Picacho Peak Rally, and as soon as we arrived we were welcomed and, within minutes, knew we were in the right place. Since our first rally we have attended a number of rallies and, as I have said many times, our friends in the 4CU keep us feeling young!

Although we are getting older, the spirit of adventure and RV traveling has not left us. We travel 3 to 4 months each summer in the Airstream and have had some fantastic trips. One of the most memorable was in 2009. Since we could barely afford a honeymoon back in 1959, we decided that for our 50th wedding anniversary/honeymoon we would take a 4 month tour of Colorado in our Airstream. We traveled 6000 miles that summer and ended the trip in Williams, AZ and had a free train ride to the Grand Canyon because it was also the Grand Canyon Railways' 50th anniversary.

Last year we traveled to Vancouver and Whistler BC, and then lolly-gagged along the Washington and Oregon coasts. We also attended the Balloon Fiesta in Albuquerque, NM and the Region 11 Rally in Cortez, CO. This year our plans are to travel to Reno, NV/Lake Tahoe, spend a month in Quincy, CA, and a month in Brookings, OR.

We love the fact that the members of the 4CU are from all walks of life and from all areas of the country, bonded together by a wonderful common denominator: "OUR AIRSTREAMS".

MEMBER NEWS

Jon & Deb Kaslove have pulled up their Arizona roots and moved to sunny Florida! They sold their home in Cave Creek, AZ last summer, drove cross-country with a rental truck and Deb towing the Airstream ... and closed on a new home in Ormond Beach, FL (near Daytona Beach) in late September. They are 10 minutes from the beach, they are closer to their kids and grandkids, and they can park their Airstream in their back yard! So it's all good! Congratulations! But please be sure and come back to see your 4CU friends when you can!

Howard Efner, 4CU's Most Excellent Treasurer, successfully navigated through his knee and cataract marathon surgeries in February and March and is now ready to roll again. He and Carolyn will be co-hosting the Summer in Santa Fe Rally 7-10 June with Janis White & Barbara Johnston. We'll see you there!

Carolyn Efner, 4CU's Resident Potter, has some of her pottery in a show at Fuller Lodge Art Center in Los Alamos, NM. The show opened in late April. Check it out at <http://fullerlodgeartcenter.com>. Congrats, Carolyn!

Mike & Tracy Bertch are still in Austin dealing with Tracy's father's estate, but Mike reports that this summer they plan to put the motorhome in storage, return to Silverton to take care of business there ... then head back to Austin to wait for Arizona to cool down enough to make their usual pilgrimage. So hopefully we'll see them again during the winter months! Travel safe!

Meridith & Marsha Sipek trailered to Flagstaff over Memorial Day weekend. All was well until they were rear-ended at a stoplight (without the trailer). Both suffered whiplash and Meridith got a concussion, but both are mending well. The truck's hitch took a direct hit, however, and had to be replaced before they could move the trailer. So their trip got unexpectedly "extended". At last word, they were returning to Phoenix to get the truck bumper damage taken care of ... and will hopefully be ready to hit the road for the Santa Fe Rally. Feel better fast!

If you have a bit of news that you'd like to share with the rest of the 4CU members, send an email to the editor at lawson@xwinds.com, or to our membership chair at Terry@TBRich.com

Lake Mead - Zion National Park - North Rim of the Grand Canyon 18-30 August 2011

Travel Log & Photos by Terry Rich & Greg Schmuker

We met Andy & Jason through the Airforums a couple of years ago. They had not found their Bambi when we first started communicating, but after several disappointing leads, they did find one — practically in their back yard! They found a wonderful and very gently used 2007 16' Bambi Quick Silver Edition. It's a very sweet rig. And it's perfect for them. They named it R2DTUBE, and promptly ordered vanity plates for it! The rest is a happy history.

We had planned this trip with Andy & Jason for weeks, maybe even months, and finally the time was here! The plan was to meet them at Lake Mead, stay there long enough to take in Hoover Dam and the new bypass bridge, then head from Lake Mead to Zion National Park and on to the North Rim of the Grand Canyon ... then we'd all travel further east to circle back through Flagstaff and on home on I-40. We would leave them when we hit Flagstaff to head south for Tucson. We'd both be making a huge circle of camping adventures, sharing the lion's share of the trip. It would be an 11-day trip for them and a 13-day trip for us.

There is a lot to show and tell, so we hope we don't wear you out ... but this ended up being one of the very best trips we have ever made, partly because of the great places we got to camp, and partly because we could not have made a better choice of travel partners. It all worked out beautifully. The only problem was that it had to come to an end too soon.

But let's start at the beginning. We had a pretty dry summer in terms of camping. Circumstances just kept us home. We hadn't been out since the Pride gathering in June, so we were really itching to be on the road. We left Tucson on Thursday, 18 August 2011. We got up at 7:00 AM, finished the last minute packing chores, got the Girls secured in the truck and we were out the drive by 10:30 AM.

You may remember that we had lost our black cocker Annie in November of 2010, just after our trip to Mexico. Sadie, our blond cocker, had gotten quite used to being the only little princess in the house, but that came to an end earlier in August when we brought Abbey-Gail (as in "storm") home from the Pima County Animal Care Center. She's a Standard Schnauzer and was about 2 years old and 25 lbs when we adopted her. This was Abbey's very first camping trip! (In hindsight, we were lucky that she travels pretty well, considering this was more than a long weekend jaunt.) Nothing like initiation by fire!

We took I-10 north to Phoenix, but had to make a stop in Chandler as we passed through. Terry's glasses frames had broken and the only place to get them repaired was in the Valley. He decided to get new lenses at the same time, so we'd sent the broken frames up to Gilbert, AZ and he was using his spare glasses. Happily, we got a call that the frames were repaired and the new lenses came in the day before we were to leave! Perfect timing! The optical store was located in the Chandler Fashion Mall, just off I-10. So we pulled off the freeway, into the mall parking lot, and Terry went in to pick up the new frames and lenses. It was only a half-hour delay before we were on the road again. Some things work out just perfectly.

We headed through the heart of Phoenix and by 1:30 PM we were north bound on US 60 for Wickenburg, northwest of Phoenix. We passed through Glendale and Surprise, AZ, and stopped for gas along the way ($3.359/gal). In Wickenburg we picked up Highway 93 toward I-40 near Kingman, AZ. We had never driven this particular route, so this was new territory for us ... always a plus. This is the most direct route from Phoenix to the northwest corner of Arizona and the Las Vegas area, so the highway is well traveled and well maintained.

Terry had heard of a BLM campground called Burro Creek Campground about 50 miles south of I-40 on Highway 93. He wanted to check it out on the way through, and possibly even stay there the night before continuing on. Of course, Terry missed the turn off 93 for the campground, so we had to go about 3 miles before we found a place big enough to turn around and go back. Greg was not pleased, but he survived. Burro Creek was actually a pretty nice campground. There were great views, a fair number of low trees because of its proximity to the creek, shade structures for most of the sites and even a dump station. There is a great arched bridge on the main road above the creek and the campground. Unfortunately it was also 106 degrees outside, and completely deserted, so we did not stay the night there. We had both generators with us, of course, but still — 106 degrees? However, we did think it would be a great place to stay at a better time of year, like spring or fall. The campground is down in a ravine about a mile from the highway, near the creek. The creek was dry when we were there, but we could imagine it would be nice when the creek was running. Running water is such a premium in Arizona deserts. We'll have to stop there at another time, for sure.

So off we went again. "Plan B" was to stay the night in Kingman, AZ, which is just 12 miles west of where 93 meets I-40. We arrived in Kingman in the late afternoon after driving 299 miles ... and checked into Blake Ranch RV Park. It's very easy to get to, just north of the Interstate — pleasant, clean and relatively quiet, and has trees throughout the property. It's also priced well. We'd stay there again. It's obviously a convenient and well-used overnight RV-er stopping place along I-40. It was pretty empty when we arrived, but by evening it was quite busy. They have a fenced off-leash dog run that Abbey really enjoyed. She romped happily with a boxer named Juliette. Sadie observed and interjected a bark here and there ... a good level of participation for her! Abbey had done well for her first day in the truck. She watched the world go by through the window, slept and didn't fuss or bark much. It looked like she was going to be a good little camper! (Whew!)

We didn't unhitch the truck since it was just an overnight. We had a sandwich, caught some news on TV ... and learned that there had been a haboob in the Phoenix area just after we passed through — not 3 hours earlier. Terry had noticed that the sky south of I-40 looked awfully hazy ... and that was the reason why. We were glad we had missed it. We'd had good, albeit hot, weather all the way north from Phoenix.

The next morning, Friday, we got up about 8:30 AM and were on the road toward Lake Mead shortly thereafter. Our assumption that Blake Ranch was largely used as an overnighter was confirmed ... it was nearly deserted by the time we were up, though we hadn't been bothered by others getting early starts on their journeys.

We gassed up a couple of miles east of Blake Ranch ($3.359/gal), and continued on I-40 to Kingman, where we exited I-40 and took Highway 93 north toward Lake Mead and Henderson. One of the reasons we'd decided to meet Andy & Jason at Lake Mead is that the new bypass bridge has been recently completed and we wanted to see it. And we all wanted to tour Hoover Dam. Before the bypass bridge, all traffic crossed the Colorado River over the Hoover Dam. The new bridge, completed in 2010 and called the Mike O'Callahan - Pat Tillman Memorial Bridge, is quite an engineering feat (not unlike the dam), and was created as a means to improve traffic in general, but more importantly we suspect, to reduce risk to the Dam by ill-intentioned traffic over it. The new bypass bridge is the widest concrete arch bridge in the western hemisphere, and nearly 850 feet above the Colorado River. We were all excited to experience driving over the new bridge, but when we got there, we couldn't see a thing from the bridge! It has sidewalls high enough that you can't see anything, and of course, you can't stop on the bridge either ... probably to keep it from becoming the new favorite place to jump to one's death! (Yikes!) In fact, we were over the bridge and on the other side before we even realized we were on it! Oh well. We'd be back the next day with Andy & Jason, and would see it from below, so we didn't worry about it too much.

We arrived at Lake Mead RV Village at about 12:30 PM, after an easy 92-mile trip from Blake Ranch RV Park. It was 110 degrees outside. And as you might guess, it was pretty quiet. Lake Mead Village is one of those parks on the lake that has a lot of "park models" in it — permanent trailers set up as turn-key lake resort or weekend destinations. There are a lot of boats on the property as well, which is understandable. It's privately run but sits in the Lake Mead National Recreation Area which is National Park Service property and has land in both Nevada and Arizona. Since it was pretty hot, it was very very quiet there. There were only a few folks here and there passing through, like us. It seemed that no one was there for a long stay. But in less searing heat it is surely a bustling place.

To be continued. Pick up the rest of our marathon travel saga with lots of pictures at Terry & Greg's Travel Log: <http://www.tbrich.com/azbambi/trips.html> . And stay tuned for next time!

Information

We are pleased to announce the 42nd Albuquerque International Balloon Fiesta. The site, just steps from the field, is a dry camping experience. Water and Honey Trucks are available. Bring your (quiet) generator. Join Airstreamers from across the country at this colorful event as hundreds of balloons take to the sky! At this rally you are not sitting on the sidelines but rather you are part of the festivities beginning with the early morning Dawn Patrol through the evening Balloon Glow and fireworks!

- You will have in/out access in your car after arriving
- Vendors are on the field serving tasty treats and coffee
- 2 tickets to the Field provided per Airstream, additional tickets may be purchased at the event

This always-popular event is expected to fill up quickly! Send your down payment today to reserve your spot! Once filled, a wait list will begin. Due to the popularity of this event, Airstreams only, please!

Note: Balloon Fiesta refund policy: 10% charge through July 14; 50% charge July 15-August 31; no refund after September 1.
